Founding Edition — consistent wording

MAISON ANVERSA

Context. Heritage No.001 will remain in the collection as a permanent model. Only the first 100 rackets, the Founding Edition, are numbered (N° 001–100) and will never be made again. Everywhere the website says that something is "limited to 100", it must be clear that this refers to the Founding Edition, not to the Heritage No.001 model.

> The rule. "Limited to 100" always goes together with "Founding Edition". Never write "Heritage No.001 is limited to 100".

EN	Antwerp, Belgium — Founding Edition 2026	(no change)
FR	Anvers, Belgique — Édition fondatrice 2026	Anvers, Belgique — Founding Edition 2026

Use "Founding Edition" in English in all three languages, as a name, the same way as "Founding Circle".

4 · Search & check everywhere

Please search all pages, emails (Brevo), meta titles and descriptions and Open Graph texts for these words, and apply the rule above:

- NL: beperkt tot 100 · 100 stuks · eerste editie
- EN: limited to 100 · 100 pieces · first edition

- FR: limité à 100 · 100 pièces · première édition · édition fondatrice

Texts about the Founding Circle and the register ("one hundred places, the first chapter closes for good") are correct and can stay.

Please send me a short list of every place you changed, so I can check them.
